

Stainless Steel D-Shaped Carabiner

Order Code: HS-026

Stainless steel connector with a 35 kN minimum breaking strength

The ISC KH200 is a stainless steel D-shaped carabiner with a polished finish and individual serial numbering for identification and inspection records.

The connector has a supplier-listed minimum breaking strength of 35 kN and a gate opening of 16 mm.

A captive-pin is supplied loose.

Technical Specification

|                           |                       |
|---------------------------|-----------------------|
| Model                     | HS-026                |
| Material                  | Stainless steel       |
| Shape                     | D-shaped              |
| Minimum breaking strength | 35 kN                 |
| Gate opening              | 16 mm                 |
| Weight                    | 225 g                 |
| Supplier-listed standard  | EN 362:2004 B/T       |
| Captive-pin option        | Pin(s) supplied loose |

Applications: Commercial Diving, Diving operations, Offshore operations

Rev 1.0 | October 2026 | DS-065